

Dear Process Mining Community,

Share your dashboards, use shared dashboards as a template and find the log you are looking for faster in the refurbished log management! Work even more effectively and collaboratively with LANA.*

Your Lana Labs Team

* The update was deployed on the 28th February 2020 at 6 pm.

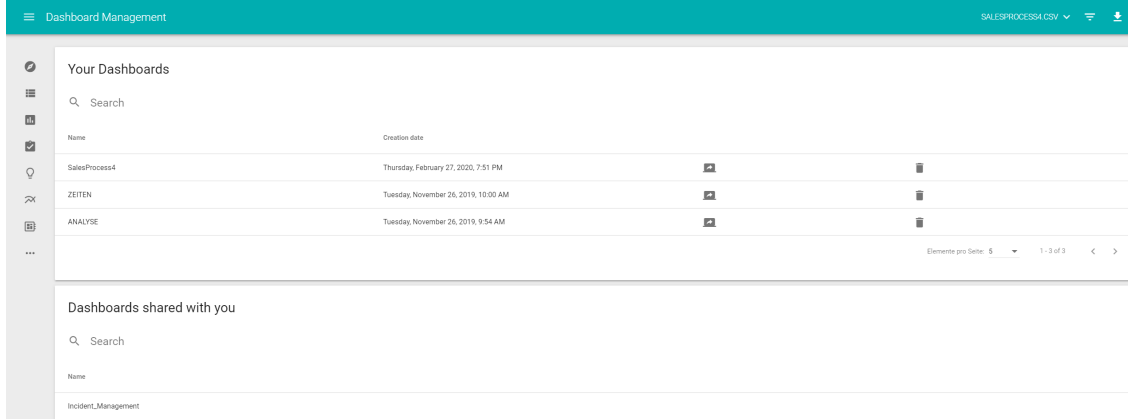

Migrate to the new dashboard now!

The support for the old dashboards will be discontinued and the functionality will be removed from LANA Process Mining in the week commencing 20th April 2020. We therefore ask you to transfer your created dashboards to the new notebook-style dashboard.

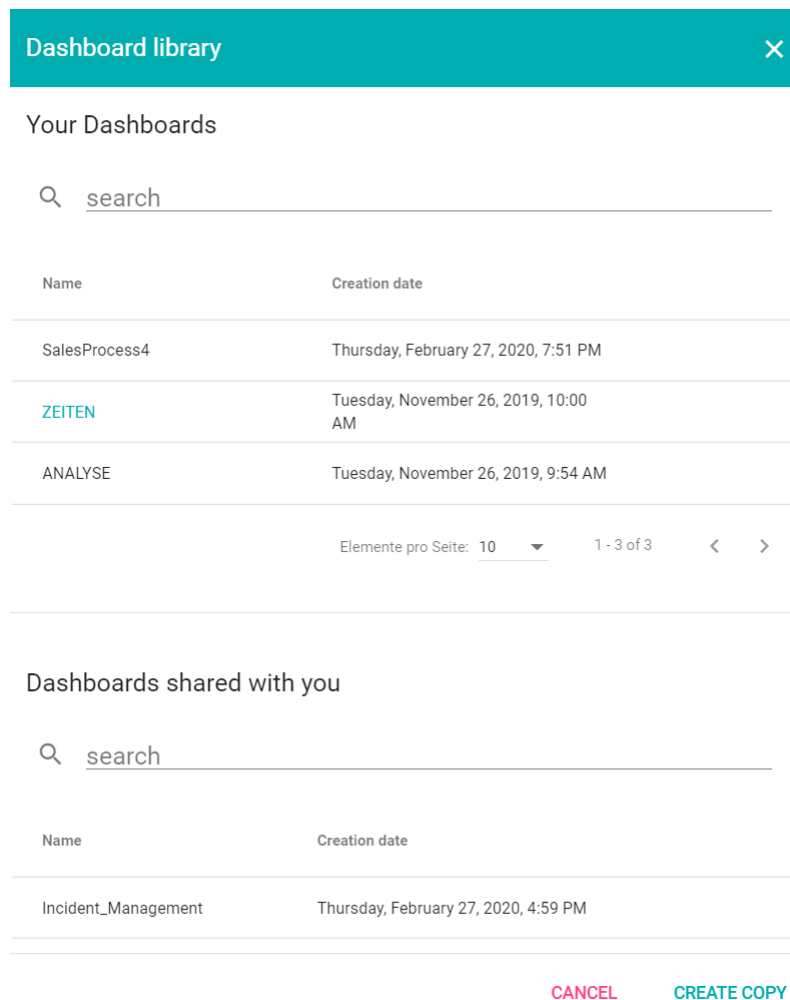

If you need help with the migration of your dashboards, please contact us via our contact form or your personal contact person.

Manage and share your dashboards!

With the new dashboard management in LANA Process Mining, you can now share analysis and monitoring dashboards you have created with your organization.

Your dashboards, as well as dashboards shared with you, can be used as a template for a new dashboard. This way, different dashboards can be combined to analyze your process efficiently and present results in the best possible way.

Find what you are looking for!

We fundamentally refurbished the log management. Familiar actions such as "Connect model" or the option to share the log are now combined in an actions menu. This now offers space for new information about the log's update date and a log description.
